The FBFR Story

The White House asked CIA, in 2006, to form a coalition of faith-based individuals and organizations who are prepared to respond in the event of a disaster either local or national. This request was the beginning of the Faith Based First Responders (FBFR). The FBFR Training is geared toward the christian community, lay people and clergy alike, crossing denominational boundaries.

The FBFR Training enables people to respond with the love of Christ to their neighbors in times of crisis with understanding, compassion and love. Insight into the grieving process brings practical guidance for personal tragedies that arise on a daily basis as well as those with a national impact.

Utilizing nationally and internationally recognized courses and training the Faith Based First Responders Training will equip and prepare you to respond to crises at home, across the nation and around the world.

Course Description

Assisting Individuals In Crisis (AIC)

Dr. Evans, while remaining true to the course content in every particular, has very carefully infused biblical principles, truths, and mandates into this presentation for the purpose of training the faith-based community in fulfilling the directives of Jesus Christ to respond to the spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of individuals in crisis. This course blends traditional Christian values and philosophy with established psychological stress management methodology to achieve a cohesive balance to assist the Christian mission mandate. This course is produced by the ICISF and is recognized by the United Nations. Completion of this course will qualify you for 1.3 Continuing Education Units from UMBC.

Two-Day Course Fees:

Early Bird Discount $175.00

Pre-Registration: $200.00

At the Door: $225.00

What others are saying about the FBFR Training...

"I have had the desire to help people in crisis situations before, but have always felt helpless or inadequate to give words of comfort... The training was just what I needed to learn practical ways to help people in their time of need."

*L. Warfel
Lancaster, PA
School Teacher*

"Emergency services and the government cannot do what the church can do, they cannot give what the church can give to assist those in need of comfort. These classes will help you to be an asset to your community in a time of need"

*K. Reilly
Fort Collins, CO

"It was a great conference with great information that I was able to glean from. It was good to reinforce what I already knew and learn new techniques... for the future."

*R. Fortenberry
Red Bluff, CA
Pastor/Police Chaplain*
